Please review the “What SFAC can help with” list and the “How to get started” list and make any modifications necessary.

What SFAC can help with

SFAC connects you to support in areas like:

- » Benefits and entitlements
Help understanding available benefits and next steps
- » Personnel and ID services
Support with records, ID cards, and related coordination (where available)
- » Transition and employment planning
Help preparing for return to duty or transition to civilian life
- » Education support
Education planning, GI Bill guidance, and spouse education resources
- » Financial counseling
Budgeting help, debt and credit guidance, and emergency financial referrals
- » Family support and referrals
Help connecting to EFMP services, childcare referrals, translation help, and community resources
- » Legal and spiritual support
Coordination with legal assistance offices and chaplain services
- » Information and referrals
If SFAC doesn't provide a service directly, staff help connect you to the right office quickly

Some services are available on site, while others are offered by appointment or through priority referrals.

How to get started

Getting help is simple:

- 1 Contact your local SFAC by phone or in person
- 2 Share what you need help with
- 3 SFAC staff will assist you, schedule follow-ups, or connect you with the right resource
